PartIII Reading Comprehension (2x20 points)

Passage I

Catching fish from oceans,lakes and streams is not only the most popular but probably the oldest pastime pursued by human beings.Thousands of years ago,people caught fish in nets and traps.They also fashioned hooks from bones and stones.Taking fish with nets for food is called commercial fishing.Fishing with a hook and line for fun is called sport fishing.

Perhaps the greatest appeal in fishing for fun is the opportunities it offers to get outdoors,to enjoy the company of friends and to use new and various skills to catch the fish.

In fishing,a set of ethic exists based on consideration for others.One job is to take no more fish than one needs.Some of the best fishers catch fish for the spirit of it and then release them unharmed for some else to catch.The sport methods a person uses in catching fish and the consideration shown for others while fishing are the marks distinguishing a true fisher.

26.Catching fish with nets for food is called _____.

- A.sport fishing B.a pastime C.commercial fishing D.netting

27.What is the most attractive about fishing for fun?

C.women hate it.
D.It is a new way of relaxing.

Passage 2

New media technologies like social media platforms present traditional Chinese culture to young people in unprecedented ways,leading to increased interest and a deeper understanding of this subject.Of course,the younger generation's love of traditional culture does not happen randomly, but is a natural result of their hope to live a cultural life. Young people are also attracted by the intrinsic and unique charm of countless traditional cultural treasures waiting to be discovered.

Social media platforms have become vital for museums to promote themselves. Douyin's 2023 Museum Date Report states that the total number of views of museum-related videos on the platform last year reached about 51.3 billion, 66 times the annual number of museum visitors nationwide, which in turn brings life to traditional Chinese culture again.

Previously, young people paid little attention to traditional Chinese culture, but now it's different. There are many media reports that inheritors of traditional cultural treasures now talk widely about their work on different media platforms, which has indirectly encouraged more young people to learn about and carry on the treasures.

31. What does the word "subject", in the third line of the passage refer to?

- A. New media technologies B. Unprecedented ways
C. Traditional Chinese culture D. Young people

32. The underlined word "charm" in the first paragraph probably means ____.

- A. attraction B. confidence C. love D. treasure

- B. The power of Stonehenge
- C. The reason for transporting blue stones
- D. The way of fetching water

38. It is a local belief that Stonehenge was possibly built _____.

- A. without a motive
- B. as a holy place
- C. with the use of wheel
- D. for health

39-40

Passage 4

Using too much water or throwing rubbish into our rivers are clear ways that humans can put out water supply in danger but we also affect our water supply in less obvious ways. You may wonder how paving(铺砌) a road can lead to less usable fresh water. A major part of the water we use every day is groundwater. Groundwater does not come from lakes or rivers, it comes from underground. The more roads and parking lots we pave the less water can flow into the ground to become groundwater.

Human activity is not responsible for all water shortages(短缺). Drier climates are of course more likely to have droughts(干旱) than areas with more rainfall but in any case good management can help to make sure there is enough water to meet our basic needs.

Thinking about the way we use water every day can make a big difference too in the United States. A family of four can use 1.5 tons of water a day! This shows how much we depend on water to live but there's a lot we can do to lower the number.

You can take steps to save water in your home. To start with use the same glass for your drinking water all day. Wash it only once a day. Run your dishwasher(洗碗机) only when it is full. Help your parents fix any leaks in your home. You can even help to keep our water supply clean by recycling batteries instead of throwing them away.

41. What is the first paragraph mainly about?

A. Why throwing rubbish can put our water supply in danger

B. How we affect our water supply

C. How building roads leads to water shortage

D. Why water comes from underground

42. Which of the following can help tackle water shortage according to the second paragraph?

A. Changing our water needs

B. Preventing droughts

C. More rainfall

D. Good management

43. The underlined word "dripping" in the last paragraph probably means _____.

A. supplying clean water

B. producing small drops of water

C. containing large amounts of water

D. moving on the surface of water

44. What is the topic of the last paragraph?

A. How to conserve water at home

B. How to repair leaking taps

C. How to wash drinking glasses

D. How to keep our water supply clean

45. What does the author advise us to do to help keep our water supply clean?

A. run dishwashers

B. supply drinking water

C. recycle batteries

D. measure the amount of the wasted water
